Our Solution

Due to regulatory compliance and the demand from consumers, Closure/Lids and liners or Heat Induction seals play a significant role in the pharmaceutical, nutraceutical, agrichemical, automobile industries. Heat Induction seals and EPE liners offer a hermetic seal, keeping the product free from moisture and contamination to ensure product safety. One of the key features of a Heat Induction seal is that it provides tamper evidence, which is vital to this industry. EPE Liners and Heat Induction seals offer product aroma retention, leak prevention and generally enhances the shelf-life of the product.
